"Stepping into my role at RMC, it was apparent that I was stepping into a legacy built by previous staff and students of a culture of deep care, fuelled by sacrificial love. It has been a delight and a privilege for me and my family to join such a wonderful community."

CHAPLAINCY

Uni can be a big time of figuring out life, beliefs and faith and our chaplain is happy to provide spiritual support to anyone if they want it.

You're always welcome to join us at Bridge Church on Sundays or different groups during the week.

WE'RE A DRY COLLEGE

At RMC we've been a 'dry' college since our beginning. We're proud of it because we know it's given our residents a safer, happier, healthier uni experience. RMC students are welcome to drink alcohol off-site when and where you like, but we keep alcohol out of the college campus for everyone's benefit.

Oh, and by the way, we definitely know how to have fun!

Our Dean and team of trained and experienced Residential Advisors (a senior student on your floor) also ensure that community life is strong and you are looked after.

We know heading to uni can be stressful. If you need some extra support you can access our onsite counsellor for free.

Our staff families and residential heads live on site. There's always a dog to pat, or a caring person to talk to if you need it.

DIVERSITY

At RMC we value diversity. In fact, we think it makes us a better, stronger, community.

You'll find a genuinely diverse community with people from all around Australia and 36 different countries. We welcome residents from all cultures, religions and belief systems, gender-diverse and neurodiverse students, and students with all types of ability and special needs.

You don't have to go overseas to broaden your horizons. Being part of RMC's diverse community increases your cultural agility and CQ - the ability to adapt to new cultural settings.
